MAY 4TH & 5TH, 2018

Dear professors and (MA, PhD) students,

We are pleased to invite you to attend UEO's 6th International Student Symposium on Creativity, Imagination and Innovation- Constant Values within Contemporary Socio-Cultural Trends.

The present symposium focuses at highlighting research findings in areas connected with socio-cultural developments generated by the dynamics of our intricate world. The students are invited to submit papers describing methods and instruments used in order to identify and assess the set of fundamental values that shape the knowledge and experiences of young people nowadays. We encourage presenters to make their speeches as lively and interactive as possible.

This event will also feature new, innovative, surprise activities in addition to the usual events one would expect. Our aim is to offer young researchers an opportunity to share new ideas, make new contacts and develop professionally in a friendly and relaxed atmosphere.
